

Keep the code?? What a reject. He even wants to raise the requirement back to 13 wpm. What a bunch of bull. Why does the FCC waste time with petition like this one?

This guy obviously needs to remove his head from his rectum and look at a calendar, then once he realizes what year it is maybe he will wake up. He still thinks that CW is the most reliable way to communicate? What third world country does he think we live in? Cw is by far the most antiquated method, let alone the fact that it is hardly the most reliable.
